Advisory Business (Item 4)

Firm Description

Charles E. Scott Brewster Registered Investment Advisory Firm was founded in 2001. In 2003 the firm changed its name to Brewster Financial Planning; and in 2007 Brewster Financial Planning became an LLC to become Brewster Financial Planning LLC.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC (“the Firm”) provides personalized confidential financial planning and investment management to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include: determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC is strictly a fee-only financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. The firm is not affiliated with entities that sell financial products or securities. No commissions in any form are accepted. No finder’s fees are accepted.

A written evaluation of each client's initial situation is generally provided to the client, often in the form of a net worth statement. Periodic reviews are generally also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews may occur but are not necessarily communicated to the client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

The initial meeting, which may be by telephone, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine the extent to which financial planning and investment management may be beneficial to the client.

Principal Owners

Charles E. Scott Brewster is 100% owner of the Firm.

Types of Advisory Services

Brewster Financial Planning LLC provides investment supervisory services, also known as asset management services; manages investment advisory accounts not involving investment supervisory services; issues periodicals; issues special reports about securities; and charts, graphs, formulas, or other devices which clients may use to evaluate securities.

On more than an occasional basis, Brewster Financial Planning LLC furnishes advice to clients on matters not involving securities, such as financial planning matters, taxation issues, and trust services that often include estate planning.

As of 12/31/2025, Brewster Financial Planning LLC managed $239,734,631.00 in assets; $237,998,138 is managed on a discretionary basis and $1,736,493 on a non-discretionary basis.

Tailored Relationships

Investment policy statements are created that reflect the stated investment allocation goals.

Agreements may not be assigned without client consent.

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Financial Planning Agreement

A financial plan is designed to help the client with aspects of financial planning with ongoing investment management after the financial plan is completed.

The financial plan may include, but is not limited to: a net worth statement; a cash flow statement; a review of investment accounts, including reviewing asset allocation and providing repositioning recommendations; strategic tax planning; a review of retirement accounts and plans including recommendations; a review of insurance policies and recommendations for changes, if necessary; one or more retirement scenarios; estate planning review and recommendations; and education planning with funding recommendations.

Detailed investment advice and specific recommendations may be provided as part of a financial plan. Implementation of the recommendations is at the discretion of the client.

The fee for a financial plan is predicated upon the facts known at the start of the engagement. The fee is based on an hourly rate of $350 and is negotiable. Since financial planning is a discovery process, situations occur wherein the client is unaware of certain financial exposures or predicaments.

In the event that the client’s situation is substantially different than disclosed at the initial meeting, a revised fee will be provided for mutual agreement. The client must approve the change of scope in advance of the additional work being performed when a fee increase is necessary.

After delivery of a financial plan, future face-to-face meetings may be scheduled as necessary. Follow-up work when necessary is billed separately at the rate of $350 per hour.

Investment Advisory Agreement

Many clients choose to have Brewster Financial Planning LLC manage their assets in order to obtain ongoing in-depth advice. Many aspects of the client's financial affairs are reviewed. As goals and objectives change over time, suggestions are made and implemented on an ongoing basis.

The scope of work and fee for an Investment Advisory Agreement is provided to the client in writing prior to the start of the relationship.

The annual Advisory Service Agreement fee is based on a percentage of the investable assets according to the following schedule:

0.85% on the first $1,000,000;

0.65% on the next $1,000,000;

0.50% on the assets between $2,000,000 and $8,000,000; and

0.40% on the assets above $8,000,000

The minimum annual fee is $8,500 and is negotiable. Current client relationships may exist where the fees are higher or lower than the fee schedule above.

Although the Investment Advisory Agreement is an ongoing agreement and constant adjustments are required, the length of service to the client is at the client's discretion. The client or the investment manager may terminate an Agreement by written notice to the other party. At termination, fees will be billed on a pro rata basis for the portion of the quarter completed. The portfolio value at the completion of the prior full billing quarter is used as the basis for the fee computation, adjusted for the number of days during the billing quarter prior to termination.

Retainer Agreement

In rare circumstances a Retainer Agreement may be executed in lieu of an Investment Advisory Agreement when it is more appropriate to work on a fixed-fee basis. The annual fee for a Retainer Agreement is negotiable.

Hourly Planning Engagements

Besides an initial financial plan or investment review, we generally do not offer hourly financial engagements. However, we reserve the right to do so. Our hourly rate when offered is $350 and is negotiable.

Asset Management

Assets are invested primarily in no-load or low-load mutual funds and exchange-traded funds, usually through discount brokers or fund companies. Fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Discount brokerages may charge a transaction fee for the purchase of some funds.

Stocks and bonds may be purchased or sold through a brokerage account when appropriate. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades. Brewster Financial Planning LLC does not receive any compensation, in any form, from fund companies.

Investments may also include: equities (stocks), corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities (variable life insurance, variable annuities, and mutual funds shares), U. S. government securities, options contracts, and interests in partnerships.

Termination of Agreement

A client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying Brewster Financial Planning LLC in writing and paying the rate for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, Brewster Financial Planning LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying the client in writing. If the client made an advance payment, Brewster Financial Planning LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Fees and Compensation (Item 5)

Description

Brewster Financial Planning LLC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management, hourly charges, fixed fees (not including subscription fees).

Some Retainer Agreements may be priced based on the complexity of work, especially when asset management is not the most significant part of the relationship.

Financial plans are priced according to the degree of complexity associated with the client's situation.

Fees are negotiable.

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in advance, meaning that we invoice you before the three-month billing period has begun. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Fees for financial plans are generally billed 50% in advance, with the balance due upon delivery of the financial plan.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to Brewster Financial Planning LLC.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

Brewster Financial Planning LLC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 60 days overdue. In addition, Brewster Financial Planning LLC reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in Brewster Financial Planning LLC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 30 days.

Performance-Based Fees (Item 6)

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients (Item 7)

Description

Brewster Financial Planning LLC generally provides investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, or charitable organizations, corporations or business entities.

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

There is a minimum annual fee of $8,500 which is negotiable.

Brewster Financial Planning LLC has the discretion to waive the minimum annual fee.

Clients paying the minimum annual fee may pay a higher percentage rate on their annual fees than the fees paid by clients with greater assets under management.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss (Item 8)

Methods of Analysis

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases. Other sources of information that Brewster Financial Planning LLC may use include Morningstar mutual fund information, Morningstar stock information, and the World Wide Web.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is an asset allocation based on clients goals. We generally use passively-managed index and exchange-traded funds. Portfolios are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Policy Statement that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases or short-term purchases for a specific goal.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face (but not limited to) the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.
- Cybersecurity Risk: Brewster Financial Planning and its service providers may be subject to operational and information security risks resulting from cyberattacks. Cyberattacks include, among other behaviors, stealing or corrupting data maintained online or digitally, denial of service attacks on websites, the unauthorized release of confidential information or various other forms of cybersecurity breaches. Cybersecurity attacks affecting Brewster Financial Planning and its service providers may adversely impact Clients. For instance, cyberattacks may interfere with the processing of transactions, cause the release of private information about Clients, impede trading, subject Brewster Financial Planning to regulatory fines or financial losses, or cause reputational damage. Similar types of cybersecurity risks are also present for issuers of securities in which Clients accounts may invest in, qualified custodians, governmental and other regulatory authorities, exchange and other financial market operators, or other financial institutions. Cybersecurity incidents that could ultimately cause them to incur losses, including for example: financial losses, cost and reputational damages, and loss from damage or interruption of systems.

Although Brewster Financial Planning has established its systems to reduce the risk of these incidents from coming to fruition, there is no guarantee that these efforts will always be successful, especially considering that Brewster Financial Planning does not directly control the cybersecurity measures and policies employed by third-party service providers or those of its clients.

N/A

Custody (Item 15)

Account Statements

Custody is defined as having any form of access to client funds or securities. Because the Firm generally has the authority to instruct the custodian to deduct the investment management fee directly from the client's account, the Firm is considered to have "custody" of client assets. This limited access may be monitored by the client through the review of account statements provided by the custodian either by surface mail or email, or by logging on to a client portal / website maintained by the custodian. These statements all show the deduction of management fees from the account. All assets are held with a qualified custodian, which means the custodian provides account statements directly to clients at their address of record at least quarterly.

Additionally, several clients have established standing instructions with Schwab which allow clients to direct the Firm to send funds from their account to other accounts with instructions from the client. Brewster Financial Planning LLC has been determined to have a form of custody over these accounts since the amount and/or timing of these transfers are not pre-defined. However, these accounts do not require surprise examination by a public accounting firm.

Brewster Financial Planning will meet the following seven conditions when a SLOA has been established with a Client to be exempted from the annual audit requirement:

1. The Client provides instructions to the qualified custodian, in writing, that includes the Client's signature, the third party's name, and either the third party's address or the third party's account number at a custodian to which the transfer will be directed.

2. The Client authorizes the investment advisor, in writing, either on the qualified custodian's form or separately, to direct transfers to the third party either on a specified schedule or from time to time.

3.The Client's qualified custodian performs appropriate verification of the instruction, such as a signature review or other method to verify the Client's authorization, and provides a transfer of funds notice to the Client promptly after each transfer.

4. The Client has the ability to terminate or change the instruction to the Client's qualified custodian.

5. The investment advisor has no authority or ability to designate or change the identity of the third party, the address, or any other information about the third party contained in the Client's instruction.

6. The investment advisor maintains records showing that the third party is not a related party of the investment advisor or located at the same address as the investment advisor.

7. The Client's qualified custodian sends the Client, in writing, an initial notice confirming the instruction and an annual notice reconfirming the instruction.

Brewster Financial Planning's password access to client accounts appears to give Brewster custody of client funds or securities. These accounts are examined on a surprise basis at least annually by an independent public accounting firm unless otherwise exempted.

Affiliation/Supervision

Brewster Financial Planning LLC is not affiliated with the custodians. The custodians do not supervise Brewster Financial Planning LLC, its agents or activities.

Reports

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the reports provided by Brewster Financial Planning LLC.

Net Worth Statements

Clients are frequently provided net worth statements and net worth graphs that are internally generated. Net worth statements contain approximations of bank account balances provided by the client, as well as the value of land and hard-to-price real estate. The net worth statements are used for long-term financial planning.

Investment Discretion (Item 16)

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Brewster Financial Planning LLC accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. Brewster Financial Planning LLC has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, the timing of executing the trade, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, generally Brewster Financial Planning LLC will consult with the client prior to each trade.

The client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. Brewster Financial Planning LLC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in your accounts on your behalf so that we may promptly implement the investment policy that you have approved in writing.

Limited Power of Attorney

A limited power of attorney is a trading authorization for this purpose. You sign a limited power of attorney so that we may execute the trades on your behalf.

Voting Client Securities (Item 17)

Proxy Votes

Brewster Financial Planning LLC does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Brewster Financial Planning LLC will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Professional Certifications

Employees have earned certifications and credentials that are required to be explained in further detail.

Certified Financial Planner (CFP):

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education, (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary.
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination, a 10-hour exam.
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years.
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Enrolled Agent "EA"

An enrolled agent is a person who has earned the privilege of representing taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service by either passing a three-part comprehensive IRS test covering individual and business tax returns, or through experience as a former IRS employee. Enrolled agent status is the highest credential the IRS awards. Individuals who obtain this status must adhere to ethical standards and complete 72 hours of continuing education courses every three years.

Enrolled agents, like attorneys and certified public accountants (CPAs), have unlimited practice rights. This means they are unrestricted as to which taxpayers they can represent, what types of tax matters they can handle, and which IRS offices they can represent clients before.
